Re: The Passing of Sarah Guenov

It is with sadness that I share the news that Sarah Guenov, a junior and computer science major from Ruddock House, passed away on January 3. Her family has requested privacy, and thus we do not have further details to share at this time.

The loss of a member of our community can bring up many challenging emotions. Please know that Caltech has created a strong support network with a variety of professionals on campus who are capable and available to help individuals struggling with this news.

If you are a student, please do not hesitate to contact the counseling services office. In addition to drop-in hours, you may also schedule a counseling appointment. After-hours consultation is also available by calling 626-395-8331, option 2.

Staff, faculty, and postdocs who may wish to seek support should contact the Staff and Faculty Consultation Center at 626-395-8360.

If you are concerned about another member of the Caltech community, please submit a CARE referral or contact the undergraduate or graduate deans' offices or the counseling services office.

Our thoughts are with Sarah's family and friends, including those within the Caltech community, at this difficult time.
